

The short list

Everything is built, tested and in the delivery. What remains is six decisions that can't be made by a document — they need a name and a date from this table. When this page is full, the project is running, not just delivered.

1 The EDM OS pilot

Pick one typical live project, name the person who'll run the system daily, and approve the hosting. Thirty days with real pipeline, people and timesheets — then keep, fix or drop.

Project: _____ Owner: _____ Decided:

2 A home for site files

One SharePoint folder per project, same structure every time, and the rule that carries the whole backup plan: save before you leave site. Costs thirty seconds a day.

Owner: _____ Decided: _____

3 Ownership on paper

Sign the IP assignment so the company legally holds what it paid for, put the code in a private company repository, and switch on two-factor sign-in for the registrar, Microsoft 365 admin and the repository.

Owner: _____ Decided: _____

4 The form key

Ten minutes: create the website form key under a company account and paste it into the contact page — so the enquiry that lands at 11pm reaches an inbox instead of vanishing.

Owner: _____ Decided: _____

5 The camera

One photography day: three leader headshots for the website, site photography to the brief, and the first project shot properly for the showcase. Real walls beat everything we can draw.

Owner: _____ Booked for: _____

6 The hundred names

Name the person who owns the lead playbook, and start the shared sheet toward a hundred qualified main contractors. Ten touches a week; numbers to the CEO every Monday.

Owner: _____ Decided: _____

EDM Holdings · Fit-Out & Drywall Specialists · Keep this page on the chairman's desk until every line has a name on it.